

"Marc has the ability to deliver difficult to understand concepts in a down to earth manner"

- Terry Johnson, Keyman Financial Services

"When he is passionate about a subject you can't help but be drawn in by that level of enthusiasm"

- Michelle Hoskin, Standards International

"Marc has a lifelong commitment to making money simple for his clients and now a far larger audience"

- Marisa Broome, FPA Chair

MARC BINEHAM

MONEY COACH | AUTHOR | SPEAKER | PODCASTER

Do you want financial freedom and to retire comfortably on your own terms? What about a life free from financial stress and help when navigating money matters?

As one of Australia's top money speakers and author of the award-winning book, the Money Sandwich, Marc Bineham wants to help make this dream a reality!

Marc is committed to helping people live their best life, a financially well-life and wants to help as many people achieve financial freedom.

Money is a major part of all our lives and can be a leading cause of stress and anxiety, yet we know or do little to understand it. It's not taught in schools, gambling and easy debt is everywhere and half of retirees end up on less than $20,000 a year!

As an inspirational speaker to corporations, communities and associations, Marc works online and in-person, empowering people to help realise their dreams and goals. No matter where you are on your financial journey, Marc believes that everyone has the potential to get better with money regardless of their situation.

With over 30 years as a financial adviser and now money coach, Marc has travelled around the world, sharing his expertise on all aspects of money and wellness, including speaking in front of 5,000 people at a Hong Kong expo in 2019. Marc has also featured as a commentator for SBS News, Sydney Morning Herald and Australian Financial Review. Additionally, Marc served for four years as the National President of the industry's professional body, Association of Financial Advisers, where he shared his knowledge with audiences both in Australia and internationally.

No matter if Marc speaks to a large audience or one on one, he wants his audience to walk away with a stack of practical, helpful tips and ideas that they can implement straight away. And as Marc often says, "what's money for if it's not to help us with the important things in life."

Learn more about Marc and how he could help you.
Contact Marc today.

marcb@themoneysandwich.com

+61 413 463 223